In November 2020 Pacific Nickel announced that Mining One had completed an initial JORC (2012) mineral resource estimate for the Kolosori Nickel Project. The Total mineral resource estimate at Kolosori calculated by Mining One was 5.89 million tonnes at 1.55 % Ni at a 1.2% Ni cut off.

As recently advised, drilling at the Kolosori Nickel Project is expected to commence this week following the granting of the Business Licence for PL 05/19. This follows a positive outcome from awareness meetings conducted in the local villages last month. The first stage of the drilling program will comprise 64 holes (including 11 metallurgical holes).

Resindo Resources and Energy Group ("Resindo") is leading the feasibility study work and has advanced engineering studies on the Kolosori Nickel Project. The main focus of Resindo's work at present is the identification and design of a port site located near to the mine site suitable for Direct Ship Operations. A port site has been identified and a local marine survey group has commenced work to provide a detailed survey of this location.

The Company has also recently advised that Mining One has commenced work on mine planning which will support a Mining Lease Application that is expected to be lodged within the next two months.

The above details of the Kolosori mineral resource estimate were originally reported in an announcement to the ASX on 19 November 2020 entitled "Initial JORC Resource Estimate At Kolosori".
