24 January 2024

Technology Metals Australia Limited (ASX: TMT) (Technology Metals, or the Company), is pleased to provide an update on activities for the quarter ended 31 December 2023.

Following the end of the quarter, the resolution presented to TMT shareholders relating to the scheme of arrangement (Scheme), under which Australian Vanadium Limited (ASX: AVL) (AVL) proposed to acquire all the shares in the Company for the amended consideration of 14 new AVL shares for every 1 TMT share held by TMT shareholders (the Scheme Resolution), was passed by the requisite majorities of TMT shareholders at the scheme meeting held on 16 January 2024. The Scheme became effective on 22 January 2024, following the court hearing held on 19 January 2024.

The merged entity can further the opportunity for operational and corporate synergies by creating an integrated project, with the potential to become the leading Australian vanadium developer with a world-class asset of scale. The combination will incorporate both TMT's and AVL's development work to date with the joint Technical Working Group established on announcement of the Scheme assessing the optimal development and processing pathway. Importantly, the Scheme allows TMT shareholders to retain an interest in the combined entity.

TMT's Managing Director, Ian Prentice, commented:

"The start of 2024 brings the successful completion of the proposed merger with Australian Vanadium Limited, which will create the largest Australian vanadium developer with a world-class asset of scale in the Tier-1 mining jurisdiction of Western Australia.

"This is a significant outcome as the world continues to look to vanadium as a key commodity in the world's transition to net zero, as demonstrated in its continued inclusion in several countries' Critical Minerals Lists.

"TMT shareholders retain an ongoing interest in this single integrated project and enjoy the benefits of the consolidation of best-in-class technical work and assets.

"I want to take this opportunity to thank all our people, project partners, the community, and our supportive shareholders for continuing on this journey with us as we undertake this corporate transition. The future for vanadium remains bright as the world advances its decarbonisation commitments."

Corporate

On 25 September 2023, the Company announced that it had entered into a binding Scheme Implementation Deed with Australian Vanadium Limited (AVL) under which the two companies proposed to merge via a scheme of arrangement (Scheme).

Under the terms of the Scheme, AVL was to acquire 100% of the fully paid ordinary shares of TMT with each shareholder of TMT to receive 12 fully paid ordinary AVL shares for each 1 fully paid ordinary TMT share held at the Scheme record date (Original Scheme Consideration).

On 4 December 2023, the Supreme Court of Western Australia made orders approving the despatch of the Scheme Booklet and ordered that a meeting of TMT shareholders be convened at 10:00am (AWST) on 16 January 2024 (Scheme Meeting) to consider and, if thought fit, approve the Scheme (refer to the Scheme booklet available at www.tmtlimited.com.au). The Scheme booklet provided all information required to be given to TMT shareholders, including the basis for the TMT Board's unanimous recommendation, reasons for and against the Scheme, the Independent Expert's report, details of the Scheme and notice of the Scheme meeting.

On 12 December 2023, the total consideration offered under the Scheme was increased to 14 new AVL shares for every 1 TMT share (Revised Scheme Consideration) and AVL confirmed that the Revised Scheme Consideration is its best and final proposal subject to no competing proposal for TMT emerging. The Scheme Implementation Deed and the Scheme have been amended to reflect the Revised Scheme Consideration. On 21 December 2023, a supplementary Scheme booklet together with a supplementary Independent Expert's report was released with additional information.

Based on the Revised Scheme Consideration TMT shareholders will hold approximately 42% of the merged group upon implementation of the Scheme, gaining exposure to the unique opportunity to realise operational and corporate synergies through creating an integrated project.

At the Scheme Meeting held on 16 January 2024, voting on two resolutions were conducted by a poll. The first resolution (Amending Resolution) was to agree to the amendments to the Scheme, specifically the Revised Scheme Consideration. The Scheme Resolution (Scheme Resolution) was to agree to the scheme of arrangement proposed between TMT and its shareholders as amended by the Amending Resolution.

The Poll Results were as follows:

About Vanadium

Vanadium is a hard, silvery grey, ductile and malleable speciality metal with a resistance to corrosion, good structural strength and stability against alkalis, acids and salt water. The elemental metal is rarely found in nature. The main use of vanadium is in the steel industry where it is primarily used in metal alloys such as rebar and structural steel, high-speed tools, titanium alloys and aircraft. The addition of a small amount of vanadium can increase steel strength by up to 100% and reduces weight by up to 30%. Vanadium high-carbon steel alloys contain in the order of 0.15 to 0.25% vanadium while high-speed tool steels, used in surgical instruments and speciality tools, contain in the range of 1 to 5% vanadium content. Global economic growth and increased intensity of use of vanadium in steel in developing countries will drive near term growth in vanadium demand.

An emerging and very significant use for vanadium is the rapidly developing energy storage (battery) sector with the expanding use and increasing penetration of the vanadium redox flow batteries (VRFB). These batteries are a rechargeable flow battery that uses vanadium in different oxidation states to store energy, using the unique ability of vanadium to exist in solution in four different oxidation states. Vanadium batteries provide an efficient storage and re-supply solution for renewable energy – being able to time-shift large amounts of previously generated energy for later use – ideally suited to micro-grid to large scale energy storage solutions (grid stabilisation).

Some of the unique advantages of vanadium batteries are:

- a lifespan of 20 years with very high cycle life (up to 20,000 cycles) and no capacity loss,
- rapid recharge and discharge,
- easily scalable into large MW applications,
- excellent long-term charge retention,
- improved safety (non-flammable) compared to Li-ion batteries, and
- can discharge to 100% with no damage.

Global economic growth and increased intensity of use of vanadium in steel in developing countries will drive near term growth in vanadium demand.
